

an invitation

to make a difference

2011

Each year Zimfest is made possible through the charitable contributions of time and stewardship of many generous volunteers. As the festival has grown, proceeds from each passing festival are donated to people and organizations in Zimbabwe, making a big difference in communities that have shared the gift of their culture, music, spirit, and wisdom for decades.

This year I invite you to look beyond the requested two-hour volunteer shift and extend your volunteer commitment where possible. Take ownership in the festival's success: help where you can; offer your skills or learn new ones; restore hidden talents; deepen connections; share knowledge; have fun! Recognize the impact your time and effort can have on both making this a memorable event and maximizing the proceeds we give back to our friends in Zimbabwe.

Ndatenda,

Lisa McKerlick
